

Geography

At Woodfield Primary School , in the teaching of Geography we want our pupils to develop enquiring minds, curiosity and a fascination about the world in which we all live. Through following the National Curriculum (2014) we will progressively develop geographical concept, knowledge and key skills. We will start with the local area and broaden it out to the wider world as we move through the Key Stages.

Pupils will learn how the world of geography will affect the people in it and how living their lives will affect the world, preparing them to have the life skills to become responsible global citizens. We at Woodfield want our children to develop a love for geography that will last them a lifetime.
