

PSHE

At Woodfield Primary the intent of our PSHE curriculum is to support the development of physically, emotional and socially healthy young people, equipped to live healthy, safe, productive and responsible lives and to keep themselves and others safe. It supports the development of essential skills for the 21st century, encouraging positive career choices and good behaviour. It aims to reduce or remove barriers to learning, such as bullying, low self-esteem, unhealthy or risky behaviours. At Woodfield, we see Personal, Social and Health Education as an imperative and necessary part of all of our pupils' education. We understand that it cannot and should not exist in isolation and therefore it is embedded within our whole school approach. PSHE has robust links with our school values – ambition, belief and courage - which aim to ensure that all children are valued as individuals and that the 'whole' child is nurtured.

Through our child-centred PSHE curriculum, our intent is to give our children the knowledge, understanding and skills they need to flourish in modern Britain and take on the responsibilities that are theirs as part of both our school and wider community.
